

Will McCormack

What If

A tree forms from a leaf
A fish born in the coral reef
A baby born every day
But why aren't they treated the same way

Every day goes down a flower
By the men and women that have the power
They do this evil, taking control
But they aren't the one taking the toll

What if...

These actions done by many men
Were brought down to a brutal end
If this can happen one day
We can't just stand here and pray

We must take each other in arms
And stop these people from building these farms
We would not stop this epic fight
Until at the end of the tunnel we saw light

And finally once it has been done
We can sit back and say we've won
Because now all things regardless of name
Will all be treated exactly the same

What if...

This fight is real; now's the time
Anything helps even a rhyme
Don't be violent, use your words
All will be saved, even the birds
